

■ Day-wise itinerary

China, a country with a rich history, diverse culture, and breathtaking landscapes, is a perfect destination for travelers. With a budget of 200,000 and 5 days to explore, we've crafted an itinerary that will take you to some of China's most iconic destinations.

Day 1

■ Attractions:

- The Great Wall of China (Mutianyu Section): A lesser-crowded section of the wall, perfect for hiking and taking in the stunning views.
- Tiananmen Square: A historic square in the heart of Beijing, surrounded by iconic landmarks like the Forbidden City and the Mausoleum of Mao Zedong.

■ Food:

- Quanjude Restaurant: Famous for its Peking roast duck, a must-try dish when in Beijing.
- Local street food: Try some traditional Beijing snacks like jiaozi (dumplings) and bing tang hu lu (candied fruits).

■ Hotel:

- The Peninsula Beijing: A 5-star hotel located in the heart of the city, offering luxurious amenities and excellent service.
- Alternately, consider staying at a boutique hotel like the Hotel Cote Cour Beijing, which offers a unique and intimate experience.

■ Transportation:

- Taxi: Convenient and widely available, but be prepared for language barriers.
- Subway: An efficient and affordable way to get around the city, with English signs and announcements.

Day 2

■ Attractions:

- The Forbidden City: The imperial palace of the Ming and Qing dynasties, a UNESCO World Heritage Site and a must-visit attraction in Beijing.
- Temple of Heaven: A beautiful temple complex where emperors once prayed for a good harvest.

■ Food:

- Din Tai Fung: A popular restaurant chain serving delicious xiaolongbao (soup dumplings) and other Taiwanese dishes.

- Local cafes: Try some traditional Chinese tea and coffee at a local cafe, like the iconic Wangfujing Street.

■ Hotel:

- Same as Day 1, or consider moving to a different hotel in a different part of the city.

■ Transportation:

- Subway: Continue using the subway to get around the city, or take a taxi for shorter distances.

Day 3

■■ Attractions:

- Flight to Xi'an: Take a morning flight to Xi'an, a city famous for its ancient history and cultural heritage.

- Terracotta Warriors: One of the greatest archaeological discoveries in the world, the Terracotta Warriors are a must-see attraction in Xi'an.

■■ Food:

- De Fa Chang Restaurant: Try some traditional Shaanxi dishes like liang pi (cold skin noodles) and rou jia mo (Chinese hamburgers).

- Muslim Quarter: Explore the vibrant Muslim Quarter and try some local street food, like kebabs and naan bread.

■ Hotel:

- The Westin Xi'an: A 5-star hotel located in the heart of the city, offering modern amenities and comfortable rooms.

- Alternately, consider staying at a boutique hotel like the Xi'an Hotel, which offers a unique and historic experience.

■ Transportation:

- Taxi: Use taxis to get around the city, or take the subway for longer distances.

Day 4

■■ Attractions:

- Xi'an City Wall: The oldest and best-preserved city wall in China, perfect for a morning walk or bike ride.

- Big Wild Goose Pagoda: A beautiful Buddhist pagoda and a iconic landmark in Xi'an.

■ Food:

- Xi'an Restaurant: Try some traditional Xi'an dishes like hand-pulled noodles and spicy lamb skewers.
- Local markets: Explore the local markets and try some street food, like fresh fruits and roasted nuts.

■ Hotel:

- Same as Day 3, or consider moving to a different hotel in a different part of the city.

■ Transportation:

- Subway: Continue using the subway to get around the city, or take a taxi for shorter distances.

Day 5

■ Attractions:

- Flight back to Beijing: Take a morning flight back to Beijing, and spend the day exploring the city.
- Summer Palace: A beautiful palace complex and a popular tourist destination, perfect for a relaxing afternoon stroll.

■ Food:

- Quanjude Restaurant (again!): Try some more Peking roast duck and other traditional Beijing dishes.
- Local cafes: Relax at a local cafe and try some traditional Chinese tea and coffee.

■ Hotel:

- Same as Day 1, or consider staying at a different hotel for your last night in Beijing.

■ Transportation:

- Taxi: Use taxis to get around the city, or take the subway for longer distances.

■ Estimated Budget:

- Flights: 50,000 (round-trip from Beijing to Xi'an)
- Accommodation: 70,000 (avg. 14,000 per night for 5 nights)

- Transportation: 10,000 (taxis, subways, and flights)
- Food: 30,000 (avg. 6,000 per day for meals and snacks)
- Attractions: 20,000 (entry fees and guided tours)
- Total: 180,000

■ Travel Tips:

- Learn some basic Chinese phrases, like "hello" (nǐ hǎo), "thank you" (xiè xiè), and "excuse me" (duì bù qǐ).
- Download the Didi Chuxing app for convenient taxi rides.
- Try to avoid traveling during peak hours (7-9 am and 5-7 pm) to avoid traffic congestion.
- Be prepared for crowds and long lines at popular tourist attractions.
- Don't forget to try some local street food and drinks, like Peking roast duck and Tsingtao beer!